

st patrick's primary school parramatter patter

27th August 2015 Term 3 No.7

Dear Parents

Last Sunday I delivered the Principal's Address at the Annual General Meeting at St Patrick's Cathedral. It was an opportunity to say a little about our wonderful school to the St Patrick's Cathedral parishioners; many of whom had children who were once students at St Patrick's School. Some of these children were my ex students and it was good to hear that they have now moved on to become successful workers and parents themselves. Present at the meeting was the Dean of the Cathedral, Rev. Fr. Bob Bossini, Father John-Paul, members of the Parish Pastoral and Finance Councils, parish staff and Bishop Kevin Manning, who is currently residing at the presbytery. I was delighted to notice the genuine interest the people there had in our school; many who asked me questions afterwards about the children and why the school is so popular regarding enrolments. My answer to this revolved around the excellent reputation the school has developed over many years and the exceptional community spirit and sense of generosity and hospitality displayed.

For those of you who attend St Patrick's Cathedral on the weekdays or weekends you would know that the parish is currently undertaking the 'Our Parish Stewardship Program'. This program aims at promoting the pastoral work of the Cathedral as well as to encourage parishioners to actively participate in this pastoral work. Part of my address centred around the important relationship the school has with the parish. Besides the invaluable support from our pastors who attend the school weekly to hear reconciliation and visit classrooms, the parish provides catechesis to our parents and students for the reception of the sacraments of Eucharist, Reconciliation and Confirmation. The children are also able to attend weekly mass on a roster basis and Fr Bob and Fr John Paul are more than happy to come to the school for special liturgies and other school events at any time. One of the aspects I love about being Principal is the opportunity to interview new families for enrolment at the school. Just like many of you, these families strongly align with St Patrick's Cathedral as their place of worship and for this reason they naturally qualify for the position of enrolment at the school. We are after all St Patrick's Cathedral Primary School.

What I found particularly curious last Sunday, however, was how underrepresented our school was at this meeting; only one family. In fact many of the parishioners present were retired members of our community. I certainly understand that the weekends are very busy for families with young children or that this particular Sunday may not have suited. I also understand that many families regularly attend Saturday or Sunday mass at the Cathedral and that our children generally attend church on a regular basis. I suppose what I am alluding to is encapsulated in the following questions;

- Do our families see themselves as part of the St Patrick's Parish?
- Does the link to the parish weaken once the child starts school or does it strengthen and why or why not?
- Can we as a community do more for our parish?
- Is it enough to just support the school?
- How are we showing our children what it means to be an adult Catholic so that they in turn will know what to do when they also become parents?
- Is there something we can contribute to the parish community especially in this time of renewal?

In my newsletters I often refer to my own family experiences and once again I would like to share some insights that came from my memories as a little girl attending St Anthony's Girraween. Not only did our family attend mass every week but my mother used to often point to the altar cloth edged with my grandmother's handy work; a beautiful crocheted edge. My mother used to say, "Your nanna made that edge for the church." I also recall with great pride the knowledge that my aunty and uncle were responsible for hosting the First Communion breakfast at the Parish Hall every year as a gift to the parish. This was one small way they could contribute, they used to say, and they never expected anything in return. It is just what you did! My mother chose to give a little of her time also especially once we had grown up, as a catechist for many years and although she gave up her dream of becoming a teacher to have her own family she was able to share her gift in this special capacity. In this way my brother and sisters learned that giving a little to others, in even a small way like handy work or time, is very important.

The fact is that our Parish of St Patrick's Parramatta needs our young school families. They need financial assistance through regular planned giving and they need support in terms of service to fill the variety of ministries available. The older members of our community need our support also. If everyone gave just a little, in some small way, we can continue together to sustain and support our parish community for generations to come. The joy of giving is one certainly worth the effort. If you are able to contribute to the St Patrick's Parish in any way please pick up a pledge card from the Cathedral this weekend, speak to one of the priests or contact the parish office on 9630 1115

CHILD SAFETY IN THE AFTERNOONS

Dear Parents

It has come to my attention that some of our children have been asked to leave in the afternoon unsupervised by an adult, to meet their parents somewhere outside the school. For safety reasons the teacher on gate duty has been asked to stop any child from leaving without an adult. To avoid undue distress and confusion can I please ask you to follow the guidelines below;

- Write a letter of permission for your child to leave the school without an adult, if that is what you wish them to do and hand it in at the office for our data base.
- Please be mindful that children leaving the school to walk home etc will be unsupervised by school staff unless they are going to the bus stop..
- May I also suggest that children of primary school age, especially those younger than Year 6 are often not attentive to traffic conditions and danger signs. Asking them to leave the school by themselves may place them at risk.
- There is a designated pick up area for 'drive through', which is supervised by teachers. Asking children to wait in an area that is not within the designated pick up zone may be placing them in danger and may be causing added complications to an already congested traffic situation.

I certainly understand that the pick up conditions around the school are not ideal however the traffic clears quite quickly within 20minutes after dismissal. I ask you to seriously consider what arrangements you have made with your children in the afternoons in light of the information above. Thanking you as always for your cooperation in keeping our children safe at all times.

ANAPHYLAXIS & ALLERGIES

Several children at our school suffer from food allergies – some very severe. Action plans are currently in place to administer medication to these children if it is required. To assist the staff and to help safeguard the health of these children I ask that you impress upon your own children the dangers of sharing their lunches with other students. In line with this policy we ask that you do not send gift items such as lollies, Easter eggs, Christmas candy canes etc for your child to give to other students. At times, teachers may give food treats to the children but they always check the suitability of these treats with the parents of allergy sufferers.

St Patrick's has a "no nut or nut products" policy, due to the number of children who are allergic to nut products. We ask for your co-operation in not sending nut products (especially Nutella, peanut butter and foods containing sesame seeds). We will continue to educate the children in the classroom about only eating their own lunches and I will keep you informed of any other protocols we may need to put in place. Thank you for your co operation.

If your child suffers from allergies or requires an epiPen please inform the Administration Office before your child starts school so that the correct action plan is implemented.

The simplest way

...to make a healthy after-school snack.

Most kids are starving as they walk through the door – and reach for processed or packaged snacks for a quick hunger fix. Get them to head to the fruit bowl, or veggie box in the fridge, instead...it's healthier, and will leave them fuller for longer. Try:

- Asking your kids to pick a vegetable and fruit, and cut both into smaller pieces
- Adding a veggie dip to keep it interesting
- Making a fruit salad
- Adding a reduced-fat yoghurt and a sprinkle of muesli
- Visit our website for great muffin recipes
